Welcome to the 28th American Crossword Puzzle Tournament! To train for this event, I adopted a strict regimen of one crossword a day through all of February. When the grid is complete, you will see the three-letter entries ("trigrams") I got for 1 Down and 3 Down in each puzzle.

Don’t worry if not all of these trigrams appear in your dictionary. What you should worry about is the fact that half of them appear inappropriately in the clues; they must be removed before solving. The other half of the clues work normally.

Also, in five puzzles, I just couldn’t solve 2 Down. To find out which puzzles they were, take the clues with extraneous trigrams, and order them chronologically by trigram (1 Down before 3 Down). Then from each clue answer, take the first letter if the corresponding trigram is from a Sunday puzzle, the second if it’s from a Monday, and so forth.

Match the remaining clues in clue order with the remaining trigrams in chronological order. Take one word from each clue; which word is again determined by the day of the week the corresponding trigram is from. This series of words will provide the clues for 1, 4 and 5 Across in each of the five puzzles; it is up to you to determine where one clue starts and the next ends, and the order the five puzzles occur in.

Once you solve 1, 4, and 5 Across for each puzzle, you will then know 2 Down. Take the 2 Downs for all five puzzles in the order you just determined. This will answer the question seen at 19 and 35 Across, which I was asking myself all through this frigid February.
