

N In One

by Ucaoimhu

In these days of multimedia, any production has to have multiple components. This page, by itself, contains two ordinary cryptic crosswords. But there's also a CD-ROM version, which goes further. Specifically, when you have solved both cryptics, black out all the letters of CD-ROM wherever they appear in the grids. This will present an additional solving challenge; after you solve it, the unclued entries at 7 and 9 in the second grid will tell you what it was.
